

When a Personal Emergency Strikes, Will You Be Prepared?

Imagine that you are in an automobile accident and taken unconscious to the hospital. Will your family have your Directive Regarding Who May Receive Medical Information so they can get information on your condition? Will your family be able to find your Medical Power of Attorney so that they can act on your behalf?

Join Amy Praskac of On the Record Advance Planning as she shares stories about the pitfalls of not being prepared. Learn how prepared you really are with her short self-quiz.

About Amy Praskac

Amy Praskac was unexpectedly widowed in 2003 and found herself serving as executor of her late husband's estate. This experience brought home the importance of having one's affairs in order and served as the inspiration for a new direction in her life. Amy founded On the Record Advance Planning in 2004 to help individuals develop a system for recording and communicating their personal information to their families.

About *On the Record Advance Planning

On the Record Advance Planning uses a comprehensive checklist developed through extensive research and experience to guide clients to complete their family's critical information notebook in a timely manner through a series of working meetings, e-mailed "to do" lists, and reminder phone calls.

On the Record Advance Planning also offers seminars and in-home tutorials for those who want to learn how to compile their family's critical information themselves. Anyone who needs to get organized right away or to help a relative get organized can buy Our Family's Critical Information notebook on the web at www.OnTheRecordOrganizing.com.

What Clients Say about Amy Praskac

"The notebook was so much more than we expected. The process has all been so easy and so much less hassle than we had imagined. Amy is extremely professional, helpful, knowledgeable, and thorough. She thought of things that we would not have considered. She is always diplomatic about her reminders to stay on task. We would give Amy Praskac an A-plus!"
